THE COMMITTEE

Last Week's Meeting of Association Officers Was a Busy Session.

Owing to the late hour of adjournment last Thursday the Ledger of last week could not secure the proceedings of the meeting of the county committee of the tobacco association.

All the members with the exception of Mr. Joe Winchester were present at the opening of the session.

The meeting was largely devoted to awarding prizes, contracts and general discussion of prize question. A number of applications for contracts were presented and those allowed were as follows:

B. F. Stone & Co., Coldwater, T. W. Irvan, South Swann, J. T. Outland, Hamlin, E. Outland & Son, East of Murray.

Bad Shoemaker, Vancleave, J. M. Thurman, Murray. The petitions of Will Clanton & Co., Hazel and V. B. Cochran were, after some discussion, rejected.

The chairman explained his action in granting a contract to Fruitema, Shaw & Co., for storing and prize and asked the committee to endorse him in this matter. After a long and heated discussion the question was submitted to a vote and resulted in five yeas and five nays.

A motion was adopted directing that all pledges be returned to the secretary by the 12th.

The meeting was then adjourned till the fourth Monday of this month.

Tobacco Man Recovering.

News from New York City, where Mr. Felix G. Ewing, founder and general manager of the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, has been a patient in a sanitarium for six months or more, states that he is slowly regaining his health, and that he will be able to return to his home at Glenraven, before a great while.

This will be gratifying news to almost every person in the black patch, for his condition has all along been thought to be hopeless, and his death only a question of time.

Celebrates Birthday.

One of the most largely attended and enjoyable occasions of the kind ever given was tendered Mrs. Fronie Howard west of town Tuesday of this week as a surprise birthday celebration. Mrs. Howard had no knowledge of the occasion until the guests began to arrive in large numbers. She had made preparations to spend the day away from home and was in the act of leaving when friends persuaded her to remain at home. The day was enjoyed by every one attending and will long be remembered by Mrs. Howard as one of the happiest occasions of her life. The Ledger wishes her many happy returns.

THE LEDGER $1.00 a year. The Ledger for the happy habit.

INTO COURT.

Big Suit is Filed Against County Chairmen in The Planters' Protective Association.

Elkton, Ky., Oct. 10.—A suit has been filed in Todd circuit court by S. J. Banks, F. M. Taliaferro, Geo. Mimms, E. T. Camps and G. A. McElwain, who sue for themselves and all planters in Todd county, Kentucky, who have pledged their tobacco to the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, and E. F. Camp and Geo. A. McElwain as stockholders in the Planters' Protective Association, of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, suing for themselves and for the use and benefit of all other stockholders as plaintiffs are suing W. W. Scott, W. W. Radford, E. E. Wash, J. R. Claypool, J. S. Lawrence, E. P. Martin, J. B. Swann, James Gibson, Bradley Wilson, P. E. Holladay, D. C. Reams, J. W. Usher, R. L. Miller, J. W. Hollowell, R. M. Terry, W. G. Miller, W. H. Wood, J. M. Moon, George Snadon, treasurer of the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. The Bank of Guthrie and the Planters Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, defendants.

The defendants are the chairmen of the different counties and are also directors of the different counties of Planters' Protective Association and have been since the association was organized in September 1904, and at a meeting held at the main office at Guthrie on the fourth Saturday in September 1907, voted to themselves the sum of $500 each for service for two years, or $1,000 each for their services, making $18,000, they having already received the sum of $5 per day and all necessary expenses when engaged in work for the association.

The suit was filed and injunction asked to stop the payment of these various sums, the same being done, it is claimed, without authority of the law. The suit was filed by Perkins & Trimble.

Hamlin, Ky.

Jack frost came in full force Saturday night and bit everything that was green.

The tobacco crop and hay crop are all in but sorghum making is not finished.

Mrs. Mary Herndon has been very sick of typhoid fever but is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Myrtle Simpson is recovering from a severe attack of malarial fever.

Rev. Cephas Outland preached at Pleasant Valley school house the second Sunday.

Miss Effie Edwards is teaching at Pleasant Valley. Mr. Grogan having resigned to attend the medical school at Nashville.

Peyton Thomas and Bob McCage have bought the Walter Stubblefield place near here and will put in a new saw mill on it.

B. F. Schroeder was in this vicinity the past week looking after the Hamlin land which he recently purchased.

Buddie Herndon will work with W. L. Underwood next year.

Quite a number of changes will be made between now and Christmas in the way of homes.

Most of the farmers of this neighborhood have pledged their tobacco to the association, and we think every tobacco raiser should join and put the trust out of business at once.

We think it time for the voters of Calloway to rise up like men and vote to build a court house. It is a disgrace on the good name of Calloway to be compelled to do without a court house just on account of a few dollars.

TOM TINKER.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some little Candy Cold Lozenges called "Preventions." Druggists everywhere are now dispensing "Preventions," for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. "Preventions" contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" "Preventions" will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La Grippe, etc. Hence the name, "Preventions." Good for feverish children. 48 "Preventions" 25 cents. Trial Boxes 5 cts. Sold by Dale & Stubblefield and H. D. Thornton.

The Confederate Reunion.

Quite a large number of Confederate veterans and friends are attending the county re-union here today.

Fine weather is prevailing and the occasion is being enjoyed. The ranks of the heroes in gray are thinning rapidly, as the attendance of the reunions will evidence, and within a very few years these delightful gatherings will become history. A number from Paris are attending today.

A. Q. Knight & Son will, commencing Friday, inaugurate one of the most extensive cut-rate sales ever held in the county. Read their page advertisement in this issue of the Ledger and see the extent of the cut they are making on all goods they handle. It will be one of the remarkable sales of the county.

Get the news; get the Ledger.

Killed by Wild Cat.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 14.—Last night as he was returning to his home in the Pond River country near here, Mr. Walter Layne, one of the most prominent farmers of this county, was the victim of a most unusual attack.

Mr. Layne had been to this city attending court, and was driving slowly along, when some animal, presumably a wildcat, dropped from an over-hanging limb onto the neck of his horse. When the horse Mr. Layne was driving felt the animal on its neck it broke and ran, throwing Mr. Layne over a cliff and in the river below. Mr. Layne fell into a deep pool which broke his fall to some extent.

He clambered out and was sitting on the side of the road when his horse, having gone around the bend, came along dragging the buggy, with the animal still on his neck.

Mr. Layne succeeded in stopping the horse, whereupon the creature deserted the horse, which was almost dead, and attacked him, biting him on the chest and neck, and scratching out both his eyes.

Mr. Layne finally got rid of the maddened animal and dropped across his buggy, which caused the horse to start again and he was dragged to his home, some two miles away, in that manner. He was discovered as he reached the gate of his farm, and medical aid reached him in a short time, but he died a few hours later, after telling of the manner in which he was injured.

Mr. Layne was prominent locally in political circles, and was at one time connected with the coal industry in this county. He has a son who is a cashier in a bank in Nashville. The horse was shot.

A party of about fifty men, armed with shotguns, are in the woods and bottoms near the scene of the attack searching for the animal, which Mr. Layne described as weighing about 100 pounds, and having the general appearance of a wild cat.

Additional Registration.

Last Saturday was supplemental registration day, and was the last opportunity voters will have this year. The result of the registration Saturday is as follows:

WEST MURRAY.

Dem. .... 39

DISSOLUTION SALE!

ON JANUARY 1, 1908, THE FIRM OF

O. T. HALE & COMPANY

By mutual consent, will dissolve partnership, W. W. Stubblefield retiring.

In order to make this possible, and settle up all matters pertaining to the partnership, we have decided, right now at the beginning of this fall season, to place our entire stock of goods on the market to be closed out to our trade at prices that mean a great loss to us but which will be the greatest saving event that the people of Calloway county have ever seen. Never, in the history of Murray and Calloway county, as far as we can remember, has such an opportunity as this been given to the buying public to save the money on a whole season's purchase as we will offer in this sale. We have fully decided to do this since buying the larger part of our stock for this season. And our stock, considering quality, variety and up-to-dateness, is fully up with any we have shown in past seasons. But stringent needs call for drastic measures and we cheerfully sacrifice the profits of an entire season's business, and in a great many instances selling goods for less than present day cost, in order to successfully carry out the plan we have undertaken. This sale, or price-cutting of our $25,000 STOCK OF GOODS, begins and will continue throughout the entire fall season, and any price that we make now will be good until the sale closes, about January 1st. But you must remember that this is a closing out sale and when we have closed out any line of goods, no more will be bought to take their place. So we advise that you take advantage of this sale early.

Monday Morning, October 14th, 1907,

In order to extend the magnitude and importance of this sale beyond the borders of Murray and Calloway county, we have arranged to refund the railroad fare to all points from Benton to Puryear one way if your purchases amount to as much as $10.00 and we will refund the full amount of your ticket both ways if your purchases amount to as much as $20.00. In order to get this refund it will be necessary for you to buy a ticket from your agent and ask him to give you a receipt for same, and after you have made your purchases, present the agents receipt to the clerk that waits on you and the amount will be refunded as stated above. If you live at a distance we invite you to come, the saving will pay you well for the day that you spend.

Spot Cash.

Terms in this sale will be strictly spot cash in every instance. Not one cent will be charged to any one after sale begins Oct. 14th. No goods sent out on approval--all goods must be paid for before leaving the store.

Our Motto for the Rest of the Year: "Everything in Our House sold for less than it will cost anywhere else."

We give here a number of items taken at random from our stock and the prices on them which gives you an idea of the prices that will rule throughout our entire stock. It is no idle boast when we say that this will be a great money saving opportunity, and make the broad claim now, that every claim that we make in print will be carried out at our store.

As long as stock lasts we will sell best standard brands of calicoe at 5c per yard, limit of 15 yds to customer.	Hoosier brown domestic 4c yd limit of 10 yds to customer.	Clarks O. N. T. spool cotton 5c spool, not over one doz to customer.	only.....23c.

Why Suffer?

If you suffer pain from any cause, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will relieve it—and leave no bad after-effects. That's the important thing. Neither do they create a habit. More often the attacks become less frequent, or disappear altogether. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have no other effect except to relieve pain and quiet nervous irritation.

"We are never without Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. My husband and son used to be always subject to sick headache, and we began using these pills, and they have broken them up entirely. I don't think I have had to use them for six months. I recommend them to every one. A few weeks ago I heard an old lady friend was sick. I went to see her. She was down with latrigo, and nearly crazy with awful backache. I gave her one of the Anti-Pain Pills and left another for her to take in a short time. They helped her right away, and she says she will never be without them again. Last winter my husband was taken with sciatica on both sides, and I know he would have died if it hadn't been for the pills. In less than half an hour he was sweating, and went to bed and slept."

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of first package (only) if it fails to benefit you.

LUSTY DAY IN NAVY.

DECKERS AND MEN CHANGE
DRESS FIVE TIMES.

Not a Regular Occurrence, But One
Which the Men
Are Sometimes Required to Do.

Four thousand officers and blue-jackets, constituting and one gunboat, in the New York navy yard, changed their uniforms simultaneously five times on a recent Sunday, says the New York Times. The reason of so much changing of dress was due to the fact that the uniforms of each officer and man must at all times wear a uniform to conform with that worn by the commanding senior officer of the fleet or squadron.

Rear Admiral Hobley D. Evans, the commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic fleet, five of whose battleships are at the navy yard, is, of course, the ranking officer at the yard. He is away on leave of absence. Next to him comes Rear Admiral Coghlan, the commander of the yard. After him comes Rear Admiral Davis, commanding the second division of the battleship squadron. However, it was said absences of commanding officers were frequent, and this made the ranking a good deal of a puzzle to anybody but a navy man.

At any rate the officers and men of the Kearsarge, Kentucky, Alabama, Maine and Missouri and the second-class gunboat Dubuque had to make some lightning changes of dress. The changes began at reveille, when a signal from the Alabama showed that the commanding officer was going to breakfast dressed in blue.

This information was quickly wigwagged to all the ships, and when the men lined up for mess each of them was clad in the blue uniform of the service. After breakfast the men lounged about the decks or strolled around the yard. About ten o'clock another signal was wigwagged from the flagship. The signal was to the effect that the ranking officer was wearing a white cap. Ten minutes later all the officers and nearly 3,500 men had discarded their caps of blue and had reappeared in caps made of pure white duck.

The next change was at the lunch hour. Hardly had that meal ended when there was some more wigwagging between the ships. The commanding officer was in the full uniform of white duck. Half an hour later the officers still on the ships and every blue-jacket on ship or in the yard had returned from a hurried visit to his quarters, where he had changed the blue for the white duck.

Just before the dinner bell another signal appeared. "Off with the white and on with the blue" is a liberal translation of what the man with the signal flags said. It was nearly sundown, but the interval between signal and mess call was sufficient for another rapid change of garb, and when the "last call for dinner" sounded the decks of every battleship and the little gunboat showed formations of smart seamen, every one of whom was clad in the full blue uniform of the United States service.

"I believe we hold the record in shooting, but I know we hold it when changing clothes is under discussion," remarked an officer, as he darted around a 12-inch turret on his way to his quarters to change his white duck for a blue uniform.

New Explosive.
Vice Consul Stephens, of Plymouth, England, writes about a new explosive which it is claimed will reduce climatic conditions. "It is reported that Messrs. Kynoch (Limited), one of the government manufacturers of cordite, claim to have produced an explosive which retains the main constituents of cordite, but which, because of ingredients added, will reduce climatic effects by one-half. Instead of a round cord, as in cordite, a ribbon is the form of manufacture, and it is claimed that this explosive will not corrode the barrels so much as the older form, that there is less friction and consequently greater accuracy. Experiments have been made which show that after firing the new explosive the 'deposit' does not injure the barrel if left in it for some hours afterward."

Nimble Animals.
Although the flea holds the record for agility of movement among insects and is capable of speed of nearly ten miles an hour, could it continue jumping without cessation and without tiring, it has but little the better of the jumping mouse found in the African deserts, which clears ten feet at a jump at the rate of 800 feet a second. Compared with these, the larger animals are sloths, for the ostrich moves 88 feet a second, the gazelle 85, and the Russian boardhound swiftest among dogs, covers only 75 feet a second. The swallow, fastest among birds, covers only 400 feet in a second, or just one-half what the African mouse can accomplish were the latter to sustain its efforts.

Population of China.
The latest authoritative information obtainable, according to Consul Anderson, of Amoy, places the population of the Chinese empire at 432,000,000. How comparatively few of the Chinese people are brought in contact with the world outside the flower kingdom is made apparent by the fact that the total population of the treaty ports is only 7,000,000.

Wasteful Custom.
The English clergy are protesting that more than 800 tons of rice are annually wasted at weddings by being thrown away after the happy pairs. More than $20,000 is yearly spent for rice.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What to Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing inflammation in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scabbing pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Add by drug-pots in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

I Want to Sell.

I want to sell the Hamlin land that I bought as described in the sale as No. 3 and 4, reserving the timber. Will sell in lots to suit the purchaser, and whatever land you may want to clear I will pay for the working of the timber into ties, etc. If interested come and see me.

LINGUIST'S WANTED.

LARGE FIELD FOR SPEAKERS OF FOREIGN TONGUES.

Growing Trade Opens Up Opportunities for Young Men and Women Who Know Spanish.

The use of the foreign languages for commercial purposes is a matter of great and increasing importance, as the growth of foreign trade from the United States promises a large new field for them. The services of a young man or woman commanding one or more of these languages are of distinct value in an export house. The young man may soon become a well paid foreign correspondent while the young man soon rises to the management of the foreign department and perhaps be sent to foreign countries as a trusted salesman or agent. Neither is this latter field closed to women, for there is one now traveling in Mexico for a western house, who sells more than and addresses than any of the men they have on the road, and she began with only a limited knowledge of Spanish.

In the present state of foreign trade from the west, Spanish is the leading language coming as it does with the trade from Cuba, Porto Rico and the West Indies and Philippines, the South American countries and Mexico, and also from Spain. After the Spanish-American war there was a sharp interest in commercial Spanish, and this has resulted in the establishment of classes for instruction in that language for business purposes, both under private auspices and in the public schools.

The almost universal knowledge of French makes it the next available tongue for business correspondence. Just as French so frequently is the language of diplomacy, so it lends itself to the transaction of international business.

Closely ranking these languages in their order come German, Italian and Portuguese; and after these, as the leading foreign languages in business correspondence, come the Russian, Swedish and Norwegian, Dutch and Danish, Finnish, Polish, Bohemian, Hungarian, modern Greek, etc. Japanese and Chinese occasionally claim attention in one way or another, and once there was handed to me a letter in Cingalese. This had to be given up as untranslatable, and was respectfully referred to the English consul, but in every other case, I may always be able to find some one to take care of business matters in languages that I do not know personally.

In general the knowledge of a language for commercial uses, is much short of the necessities of that language in a literary sense. The mere literary translator finds difficulty at first in the commercial use of the language on account of the trade expressions and technical terms peculiar to each line of business. Yet in the letters from the foreign correspondent there are invitations to something more in correspondence than the average American letter writer is disposed to see. Almost invariably the foreigner of intelligence, in writing a business letter, puts into it a good deal more of formality and of politeness than the American at the same time putting more care into the penmanship and general appearance of the missive, many of their communications being remarkable for neatness and beauty of their execution.

In the ordinary matter for the average correspondence, the translator has opportunity beyond the mere stenographer to make a letter all that it should be. If a businessman indites a letter in a short, brusque manner, the translator, who realizes that it will go to a person where the formalities of life count for a good deal, has the opportunity to soften the dictum and round out the sentences where, in dictated correspondence, in English, the writer would insist upon his exact wording. In this matter the translator of foreign languages requires a good deal more in equipment than does the shorthand letter writer.

Few people appreciate the necessity for the use of the languages in dozens of lines in the large cities and the surrounding country. I often wish that I could follow to their destination the letters that leave my hands daily. In every capital city of the world I should see the names of leading firms as familiar as are any in my own city, and in every country I should find people using American machinery of every description and other American products in endless variety.

This shows to what an extent our foreign trade has grown, but almost none of these goods from the western factory gets into the antipodes by mere force of gravitation. Not even the direction accredited to the course of empty accounts for the fact. Business methods in business languages are the outgrowth of the fact that foreigners generally insist upon writing letters in their own tongue and upon receiving replies that require no interpreter. The frequently live in small provincial towns or out of the way places, far removed from anyone speaking the English tongue, so that translation is impossible, and letters in English are often returned to the senders with the notice that in order to do business with these correspondents letters must be in their own language.

This picture has reference to Calloway county lands. I want to buy several farms and I want them bad. I can use at once farms as follows:

Three farms of 40 to 50 acres each well improved with dwelling, stables, barn and water, at prices ranging from $200 to $1500.

One farm of 100 acres well improved with house room for 12 in family, plenty of stable and barn room and plenty of water. I am in a hurry for this place and will pay anywhere from $20 to $30 per acre. Call at my office and let me know about it at once.

One good farm of 150 to 200 acres well improved with good dwelling and one or two tenant houses, barns etc. Must be level land and most all tillable. Will pay any price from $20 to $30 per acre according to quality and location.

Sheep ranch. I want 1000 to 2000 acres of sheep land anywhere in West Kentucky with plenty of water on each two or three hundred acres. Will pay $2 to $4 per acre according to quality and location.

In the meantime I have inquiries for all kinds, sizes and prices every day. If you have a farm or land of any kind for sale, you will be flooded with buyers if you come right up the steps at rear of Corner Drug Store and list it with me. One man sold before he got out of the office, the same day he listed. I had seven buyers on J. Swann's place the very day it was listed, and six of them the

One of America's Greatest Novels.

The announcement that a new dramatization of the "Hidden Hand" will be presented at the Opera House, Murray, Kentucky, Monday, October the 21st recalls that this story made Robert Bonner, owner of the New York Ledger, a millionaire. He had just bought the paper when he was lucky enough to get Mrs. Southworth's story, the "Hidden Hand," as a serial. The circulation of the Ledger went up by leaps and bounds and soon the brave, bright, innocent, lovable Capitola was known in almost every home in the land. Everybody was talking about the story and its madcap heroine, its terrible Black Donald, and its irresistible funny darky characters such as Wool and Pitapat. All these character have been included in the cast of this new dramatization and the play has been built up by the experienced hand of an actor of the best standing, Eugene Moore.

A Quick and Safe Remedy for Bowel Complaints.

Twenty years ago Mr. Geo. W. Brock discovered that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was a quick and safe cure for bowel complaints. "During all of these years," he says, "I have used it and recommended it many times and the results have never yet disappointed me." Mr. Brock is publisher of the Aberdeen, Md., Enterprise. For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

The Hidden Hand.

Mrs. E. D. N. Southworth's great play is one of the best shows to be at the opera house this season Oct. 21, - 23 and 25c.

Accidents will happen, but the best-regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric oil for such emergencies. It subdues pain and heals the hurts.

THEATRE TALK NO. 4.

THERE IS ALWAYS A SWEET FEELING OF REST, contentment and simplicity in the far away country villages and cross-road hamlets far from the hum and bustle of city life. There is a truthfulness that admits of open doors and hospitable welcome. A newcomer is looked upon as a friend until proven otherwise. Each individual in the hamlet knows the movements of his friends and neighbors. The rugged life led by the inhabitants of the mountain districts of old Virginia admits portrayals which evolve themselves into the acme of stage pictures. "THE HIDDEN HAND" IS A HOMELIKE, OLD FASHIONED STORY OF OLD VIRGINIA written by Mrs. Southworth and appeared as a serial in the New York Ledger when that famous story paper was riding on the top wave of success and prosperity. The story has been dramatized by Eugene Moore and will be presented in the city before many days. Both play and company have received unstinted praise from both public and press. It is so seldom in this up-to-date world of ours that a homelike and interesting drama with a taste of the hills a real flavor of the woods and valleys is seen, that "THE HIDDEN HAND" comes as a relief. Concerning this production the Cincinnati Enquirer of a recent date made these few pleasing remarks:

HOW TO GET A HAPPY FEELING

"THE HIDDEN HAND" COMPANY appeared last night in this city in time for the opening at the Lyceum Theatre, where they were kindly welcomed by a large and appreciative audience. The motif of the play deals with the good, old times in old Virginia with darkies, laughter, music and a love story with the inevitable villain to overcome. "THE HIDDEN HAND" COULD NOT FIND FAVOR UNLESS PRESENTED BY A CAPABLE CAST. It is pleasant to note that those who took part gave a good account of themselves and the earnestness with which the different actors entered into their work gave a distinct value to the character of the play. There was enough action in the play to make it interesting and thrilling and the scenery showing some interesting spots in Virginia is well worth seeing."

KUALITY KOUNTS

GLAD CROWDS LEAVE THE THEATRES. WHAT MORE COULD BE SAID. NOTHING SO GOOD HAS EVER BEEN OFFERED IN THIS CITY AT SUCH PRICES. IF YOU DON'T THINK THIS IS A GOOD SHOW, WE WILL REFUND YOUR MONEY. USUAL PRICES WILL PREVAIL.
